Oklahoma City, OK, Nov. 5, 2018 — Malvern Bank is proud to sponsor the Open Performance Mares class at the 2018 American Quarter Horse Association World Championship Show on Thursday, November 8, 2018, in Oklahoma City, OK.

The World Show brings over 4,400 competitors from the United States, Belgium, Brazil, Canada, Mexico, Switzerland and the United Kingdom to compete for 99 world championship titles. Horses must qualify to participate by earning points throughout the year in classes such as halter, English and western disciplines.

President and CEO, Anthony C. Weagley, noted “We are proud to sponsor this year’s Open Performance Mares class at the World Show, where the top quarter horses in the world compete. This sponsorship is in line with our commitment to serve the equestrian industry by combining our knowledge of horses and financial services. On behalf of the Bank, along with Blue Mountain Quarter Horses, Kristy’s Quarter Horses, Castle Ranch and Pait Show Horses, I want to congratulate all qualifiers and competitors on a strong 2018 season!”

Since launching the Equestrian Affinity Program, Malvern Bank has been able to provide financial services to individuals and businesses within the equestrian industry. The Program is tailored to the needs of the equine industry; whether you own a pleasure horse to competing at the World Show, or other equestrian needs, Malvern Bank can assist you in buying your next farm, financing the next great prospect or a new truck or trailer, and any associated insurance needs, all with a focus on service. Malvern Bank understands that equestrians have demanding schedules both on the farm and away from it where we provide you a Private Client banker who can handle all of your financial needs.
